Woman Injured During Power Outage

At approximately 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, April 4, 2010, Boulder City Firefighters responded to a call regarding an electric pole fire in the area of Nevada Highway and Yucca Street. Upon arrival, no fire was detected, although wide-spread power outages were reported.

Shortly following the initial call, a fire alarm was reported in the area and the on-scene crew proceeded to clear from the Yucca Street incident and initiated a response to the alarm call.

During the process of responding from the Yucca Street location, a Boulder City Fire Department apparatus was involved in an incident with a woman who sustained injuries. Boulder City Fire Department personnel began immediate patient care of the woman who was then airlifted to UMC.

The Boulder City Police are investigating the incident.
